Q&A

Q: "It's the word that frequently concludes prayers in the New Testament, the Creed, and the last book of the Bible. It's a word inseparable from Christ our Lord, emphasizing the trustworthiness of his teaching, his authority, and his truth. It's the word with which the Church ends her prayers. What's the Word?"

A: In Hebrew, the word that expresses this solidity, trustworthiness, and faithfulness, comes from the same root as the word "believe." This word speaks to God's faithfulness towards us and our trust in him. To say you believe is to say the word: Amen."
