Pastor's Corner

With the recent beginning of COVID vaccines available to us, there seems to be a change in the air.

We hear words expressing relief, hope, peace and joy from parishioners. Those who have been staying safe at home arrive proclaiming that they have received their vaccine and are excited to be able to come to Mass again. There remains the required sanitizing and distancing, but a new sense of life is here.

It is exciting to see this new life begin to blossom!

Of course, you have not been hibernating while staying safe at home. Your faith has continued strong, you have been prayerful and you have been a sign of hope to others. Our faith never takes a break. All that you are doing, the distancing and sanitizing you are doing with a real concern for the health of yourselves and others.

Your patience and peace of heart has helped others to deal with the frustrations of the pandemic. Your prayerful praying the Mass online at our St. James website or any of the hundreds of other churches streaming their Masses has been source of strength for your families and a reminder of God's compassion for his people.

The pandemic is not yet over and we have a way to go, but God's grace and love reigning in your hearts continues to make a difference for us all.

May the Lord bless you each and every day to continue to be the disciple of Christ that you are so that you witness the gospel to everyone you meet.

Blessings,

Msgr. Mike

Maybe you grew up Catholic
Maybe you think of yourself as Catholic
Maybe you haven't been to church in awhile.
Or you are worried that you won't be welcomed here.
And maybe it feels awkward and scary
to take that first step.. Questions.
Doubts. Yearning. But not sure for what. We get it.
We've been there.
Now we are here.

Maybe God is calling you, too.
Just as you are.
Welcome home.

Wendy Bell,
Director, St. James Catholic Preschool

Q: During the season of Lent we read in Leviticus 20: "You shall be holy to me ; for I the Lord am holy."

And, from Matthew 5:

"So be perfect, just as your Heavenly Father is perfect." Holiness and perfection. Whether in actuality or sincerely aspirational, how does the charity of Christ act as the source of all our merits?

A: The Catechism of the Catholic Church beautifully elevates an understanding of the elements of conversion and ultimate transformative faith as it examines scripture, liturgical tradition, and the exemplary lives of the saints:

"All Christians in any state or walk of life are called to the fullness of Christian life and to the perfection of charity. All are called to holiness. Spiritual progress tends toward ever more intimate union with Christ. This union is called "mystical" because it participates in the mystery of Christ through the sacraments- the holy mysteries."

"The way of perfection passes by way of the cross."

"The grace of the Holy Spirit confers upon us the righteousness of God. Uniting us by faith and Baptism to the Passion and Resurrection of Christ, the Spirit makes us sharers in his life. Moved by grace, man turns toward God and away from sin, and so accepts forgiveness and righteousness from on high."

Interestingly, another avenue we may take in coming to terms with the call found in Leviticus and in Matthew is the perspective that many saints find in the examples present within a garden.

One can consider the transformative features found in the cycles of a plant or flower or fruit, moving and growing toward its own designated fulfillment or actualization of the most optimum condition, leading to perfection.

As part of the thread of realization of floral as well as human spiritual care and direction, Irish monastery founder and patron saint of gardeners, St. Fiacre sought to find the Lord, "in the silence and radiance of nature." Perfection.

The next time we till our garden or maybe water and revive with care, a bouquet of grocery store flowers, we too may become more deeply aware of the saintly imagery of the splendor and glory of the Lord as expressed in the beautiful vitality and ultimate perfection among the flora of the garden.

The internalization of these catechetical teachings of the Church, along with an appreciation of God's bounty in the world may serve to help us better discern our own personal spiritual journey towards holiness and perfection, as we continue to pass by way of the cross.

Religious Education

Dear Friends and Families of Saint James,

Lent is a time to refocus our lives, a time to pause and assess our habits, so that we can more fully respond to the love of God. Because of COVID, we have virtual opportunities to grow in our faith that did not exist this time last year! If you have ever wanted to attend Mass at a church in another part of the country or the world, now is your time! A quick google search will show you many virtual opportunities, including our own daily Masses and Sunday Vigil Masses here at St. James. The parish has also added a recording of the Stations of the Cross to our website. I would encourage all our parish families to take the time to find a virtual resource to enrich your family's experience of Lent. Feel free to call the office if you would like help finding information, and be sure to check out our page on the parish website for other ideas about observing Lent as a family.

Parents of First Communicants, as we said last week, please check your emails for an update on our plans for First Communion, which have changed from what was shared at the beginning of the year. If you do not have an email from the Religious Education Office with the new dates, please contact us.

Our office is open Monday to Thursday from 9am-3pm, and our phone number is 310.379.3221.

May this Lent bring you a deeper awareness of the love of God reaching out to you through the Sacraments, through nature, and through one another!

God bless!

Andrea Sullivan,
Director of Religious Education

Gospel Meditation

Many prefer a “create as you go” approach to life where laws and protocols primarily exist to secure and protect liberties rather than dictate and outline proper and right behavior. There are no real benchmarks for acceptable ethical and moral behavior, with a “you can’t tell me what to do” attitude prevailing. Parents are even limited in what they can request of their children, and dealing with threatening behaviors, especially from adults, are a challenge as well. Acceptable and expected conduct seems to amount to safeguarding each other’s space rather than increasing awareness of necessary relationships that require a more refined and higher response.

We have lost our axis to the world of “anything goes” and no longer see the Ten Commandments as practical and wise guideposts to effective living.

We live on “relativism island” where only a possible suggestion to “love and do not harm” may be the only standard able to be preached. While Jesus most certainly emphasized love above anything else, it was never about warm fuzzy feelings or halfhearted humanitarian efforts. The love of which Jesus spoke establishes an intimate connection with God, neighbor, self, and creation. Because this love, who is God Himself, is at the foundational core of our lives, it demands actions and attitudes that serve to build up, increase, and free up those relationships. Love requires proper conduct. Preserving and enhancing these love centered relationships is at the heart of the Ten Commandments (and the Beatitudes) and the reason for Jesus’ display of anger in the temple.

The Ten Commandments can save the world from turmoil and conflict by instilling basic moral and relational principles within us. They also hold a healthy sense of sin in balance and always remind us of our relationship with God and the freedom God offers. Our faith preserves these jewels of truth that we often look beyond, dismiss altogether, or seek to remove from public view. Human beings can be so arrogant at times.

Our Lenten journey, especially when embarked upon with sincerity and resolve, can restore all of our essential relationships. When we get absorbed in life’s preoccupations and demands, things can quickly get distorted and we can find ourselves way off track.

In short, we find ourselves in sin. Humanity is losing a sense of both grace and sin. We need both to understand what is real and true. Until we do, the oppressive systems and ideologies that hurt so many will never change. We will never change. We are grateful for those courageous souls who willingly embrace the conversion and hard work Lent demands and stand against antiquated systems and ideologies.

They give us hope that all is not lost. ©LPI

House of Yahweh Community Service Saturday

Saturday, March 20th, is Community Service Saturday at
The House of Yahweh’s South Bay
Outreach Center.

On this day we are accepting donations of protein supplements, such as Ensure and Glucerna, which we give to our clients who need these products to maintain proper nutrition. Many of our older clients and those with health issues like cancer, diabetes and other serious health challenges need a protein boost and the added nutrients provided by these supplements to stay well. The costs of the supplements often are far too high for someone with an extremely limited income. You can help by adding a package of a nutrition/protein supplement to your grocery order the next time you go shopping.

Donations are accepted between 9a.m. and 1p.m. On March 20th at our Marine Avenue Gate located at 4046 Marine Avenues in Lawndale, CA. Or, you may drop off donations between 10 am and 4 pm at the office. If you have time on Mar. 20th, we could use a few volunteers to help receive donations and other support tasks to help our neighbors in need.

Please call Donna Quirk at 310.675.1384 if you have time to volunteer.

Into the Breach

Inspired by Bishop Olmsted's vision, the Knights of Columbus and the Diocese of Phoenix have joined together to produce a 12-episode video series, also titled Into the Breach. Each episode focuses on a different aspect of authentic Catholic masculinity and features interviews with well-known Catholic commentators and follows the personal story of a man whose life illuminates each theme.

The series can also be used for individual reflection and a study guide is available. By joining together in brotherhood, men receive the support they need to grow in virtue and to take action to serve Christ and others.

We hope that this series help you and all of us to step into the breach. To preview the video:

A Companion for your Journey

As we walk with others who hurt and ache, we as Stephen Ministers pray that our hearts will be warm with compassion and understanding.

Call 310.541.1403, a confidential, dedicated phone message line.

It's normal to grieve a pregnancy loss, including the loss of a child by abortion. It can form a hole in one's heart, a hole so deep that sometimes it seems nothing can fill the emptiness.

You are not alone... <https://hopeafterabortion.com/>

Spiritual Adoption

Daily prayer for a period of nine months:

"Jesus, Mary and Joseph, I love you very much. I beg you to spare the life of the unborn baby that I have spiritually adopted who is in danger of abortion." -

Prayer of Archbishop Fulton J. Sheen

Your prayers CAN make a difference between whether a baby will be born...or aborted. Our prayers can also be a form of spiritual support for both of the parents. Please share the love of life given to you by the Lord of all life and join in spiritually adopting a baby.
