“Rich and poor have this in common:
The LORD is the Maker of them all.”
Proverbs 22:2

*“We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are
Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.
That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed,
That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it,
and to institute new Government.”*

America the Beautiful

O beautiful for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties
Above the fruited plain!

America! America!
God shed His grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea!

O beautiful for pilgrim feet
Whose stern impassioned stress
A thoroughfare for freedom beat
Across the wilderness.

America! America!
God mend thine ev'ry flaw,
Confirm thy soul in self-control,
Thy liberty in law.

O beautiful for heroes proved
In liberating strife,
Who more than self their country loved,
And mercy more than life.

America! America!
May God thy gold refine
Till all success be nobleness,
And ev'ry gain divine.

O beautiful for patriot dream
That sees beyond the years
Thine alabaster cities gleam
Undimmed by human tears.

America! America!
God shed his grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea.

We value our members and strive to provide the best quality service while maintaining the values and standards of the Catholic community.

Parishioners Federal Credit Union was founded and chartered in 1961 thanks to the efforts of Monsignor J. Augustine O'Gorman of St. James Parish in Redondo Beach. lunch meat & cheese	8 oz. water and juices

Some of these items can easily fit into their backpacks.

In addition to the food items we are in need of toiletries and socks.

Religious Education

Dear Friends and Families of Saint James,

Families, registration for Religious Education for the 2022-2023 school year is now open on the parish website! SaintJames.Church/RE

Whether your family has been involved in Religious Education for years or this will be your first time joining us, we are excited to welcome you into our program.

When you visit our registration page, you will see that we have added a family faith formation experience for our families with children in Kindergarten. You will also see that we have moved the time for our Junior High classes to Tuesdays from 4-5:15 instead of in the evenings.

Please call the Office 310.379.3221 if you have any questions. We will be happy to assist you.

Along with enrolling children in Religious Education, we are also in the process of recruiting and training Catechists and Aides to help serve in the classrooms next year.

Pope Francis said in a homily in 2013,
"Who are catechists?"

They are people who keep the memory of God alive; they keep it alive in themselves and they are able to revive it in others. This is something beautiful: to remember God..."

If you feel called to this formal role of sharing our faith with others as a memory keeper of God, please contact the Office of Religious Education at 310.379.3221 or email us at religiously@stjamesparish.org.

We will provide you with training to be ready to serve as a Catechist or Aide this September.

The Religious Education Program has Catechists who serve in many areas, including in our Religious Education classes, our Sunday School program, and our Children's Liturgy of the Word program.

Our community needs your gifts. Please consider how the Holy Spirit is calling you to serve our parish during the coming school year.

God Bless!

Director of Religious Education

Ps. 118:24

This Week's Topic: Patron Saint

In a recent homily, Monsignor Mike, in discussion of Luke's Gospel related a verse referencing our Church's patron, St. James.

It was the familiar and touching verse about the Samaritan town's inhospitable rebuke of Jesus who was in transit to Jerusalem.

Q: What was it about that homily that struck an especially spiritual, familial chord?

A: Our own James in the company of his brother, John, exhibited his impetuous zeal when he called for fire to descend upon that unwelcoming town; with Jesus intervening to restrain the "Sons of Thunder."

In his homily, Monsignor, standing in the sanctuary of St. James Church, brought scripture and our own Apostle, into timeless focus.

We got a glimpse of the fiery faith of our patron St. James.

And while foxes have dens and birds have nests, Jesus, the itinerant preacher, has given each of us a spiritual home here at St. James Catholic Church.

James is also depicted throughout our church. Some scholars say that stained glass windows in churches began not merely as decorative, but that they were intended in ages past to illustrate scriptural lessons for the illiterate.

What we do know is that the beautiful window lesson in the east transept above the choir shows the raising of the daughter of Jairus, and that James was there at that miracle.

We see the window in the west transept depicting another scriptural moment when James and the others, with heartfelt wonder, were called to be "fishers of men."

The third of the magnificent and inspirational stained glass moments in time is found just past and above the rear vestibule entrance where we look up to see a benevolent Jesus on the prow of a fisherman's boat.

The words refer to the "beloved son" and "hear him." Again, James was present among those fishermen.

The Catechism, in Paragraph 2013, echoes the ethos of Monsignor's message:

"Thus the holiness of the People of God will grow in fruitful abundance, as is clearly shown in the history of the Church through the lives of so many saints."

Saints such as our own St. James, patron of our ecclesial home.

Freedom properly defined is freedom properly understood. The Cambridge Dictionary tells us that it is, "the condition or right of being able or allowed to do, say, think, etc., whatever you want to, without being controlled or limited." That same dictionary defines liberty as, "the freedom to live, work, and travel as you want to." Both definitions sound very similar. Is there a difference between freedom and liberty? Many are accustomed to believing that freedom and liberty are interchangeable and simply involve possessing rights and privileges. For the Christian, however, there is a big difference between the two.

St. John Chrysostom directs that "the only person who is free is the one who lives for Christ." There are many other inspirational people throughout history who see freedom as something far greater than liberty. True and properly understood freedom has little to do with entitlement or self-promotion. For the believer, it is a matter of the heart and soul. Freedom (and liberty, for that matter), seen only in terms of the world, can quickly be taken away. The freedom spoken of by St. John Chrysostom can only be lost by personal choice. When one lives for Christ, they live in pursuit of virtues that enlighten one's soul (faith, hope, and love) and strengthen one's character (justice, fortitude, temperance, and prudence). Rather than having the ability to acquire or do more things, true freedom asks us to be detached. Privileges, rights, and responsibilities are important, but they do not define us.

The world is not always open to listening to the truth. "I am sending you like lambs among wolves," Jesus tells his disciples. The secular definitions of freedom and liberty are very attractive. They promise us a great deal. It is no wonder Jesus asks his disciples to travel with very little. The Gospel is not dependent upon things or anything those with worldly power or investment can say or do. When one chooses to live for Christ, they choose to live with peace. That's what true freedom will give us. If we do not want what Christ offers, we can close the door, and the messenger will walk away. Distracted by the lure of personal liberties, we risk losing our freedom. We will not have anything truly life-giving to share with others.
